We’ve gone all in.

Hey friends,
The Lord has led us into full-time ministry, and we’ve gone all in. Our days are filled with worship, recording, teaching, and preparation as we follow His call to equip the next generation.

We’ve been blessed by our friend and mentor, Pastor Dave Yarns, whose encouragement and direction have helped strengthen us along the way.

Face to Face is complete

He has also been preparing for several live shows featuring the album. We’ll announce dates in November!

Brooklyn Mackie

Growing in skill. Preparing to serve.

Piano, guitar, songwriting, and time in the recording studio.

We’re nearing completion of Brooklyn’s album, and we’re excited about how much he’s growing. We’ve been teaching him piano, guitar, and songwriting, helping him develop his musical gifts with purpose.

Brooklyn hopes to become a worship leader when he’s older. We’ve performed together in his home for his church family and friends, giving him opportunities to share his music and gain experience. He’s making strong progress, and we look forward to sharing his songs with you.

Hope is stepping into leadership

Our daughter Hope has decided to take a leadership role in Release Your Sound. She feels a deep burden for the Kingdom, and we’re excited to see her serve alongside us.

Empowering churches. Empowering their youth.

More music in the making

Nikki recording

Louis with Janell

We've started recording a contemporary Christian single with Nikki Braache and music with Janell, whose sound is meditative and soulful.

Alongside these three artist projects, we're filming and editing promotional videos, creating marketing materials, and writing curriculum. Louis's engineer also keeps encouraging him to record a rock album. We'll see where that conversation leads!

Help us equip the next generation

Our mission is to empower churches by empowering their youth. Through biblical discipleship, instruments, vocals, songwriting, and playing together in bands, students will develop their God-given gifts and prepare to serve their local churches.

We believe the Lord is doing something meaningful through Release Your Sound, and we invite you to prayerfully consider partnering with us. We need your help and generosity to equip the next generation with excellence.

We're looking for people who see the need and want to invest in young lives. Pray about joining us through a monthly partnership or a gift of any amount.
